

Dear parents/carers,

Welcome back to the second part of the Autumn term. I hope you all had a fabulous half term.

This half term our topic will be Penguins of Antarctica with our class text 'The Emperor's Egg' by Martin Jenkins. In English we will be using this text to write and perform our own poems. Become familiar with the key features of a non-fiction text and write our own about emperor penguins. In maths we will be looking at addition and subtraction with money, using this money to solve problems and multiplication.
